DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 22 and 36 are objected to because of the following informalities:

Claim 22 recites the words "at least two" twice in line 6.

Claim 36 recites the limitation "the top" in line 3. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-21 and 36-43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 3,736,694 to Lebensfeld.

Lebensfeld shows a pressure actuated bubble blowing toy as seen in Figs. 2 and 3, having a flexible vessel 10 formed by bottom and side walls and defining an internal cavity as seen in the Figs. and having at least one aperture at the end of neck 14, means for dispensing or channel 34 connected to the aperture on the vessel, an exterior reservoir 20 provided on top of vessel 10, the vessel 10 is deformable by hand to cause liquid soap 12 to flow into the exterior reservoir through an spigot 30 and a bubble wand 26.

4. Claims 22-27, 29-32, 34 and 35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 4,418,843 to Jackman.

Art Unit: 3754

Jackman shows a squeeze-bottle dispenser as seen in Fig. 1, having a flexible cylindrical wall and bottom defining a vessel 1 with an internal cavity with two apertures 12 and 3, dispensing means or nozzle 7 connected to aperture 3 by a channel 2, an external reservoir 6 located on top of the vessel and retaining a quantity of liquid and having dimensions able to received a bubble wand.

With respect to the container intended to be use to hold liquid soap, see MPEP 2115:

“Expressions relating the apparatus to contents thereof during an intended operation are of no significance in determining patentability of the apparatus claim.” Ex parte Thibault, 164 USPQ 666, 667 (Bd. App. 1969). Furthermore, “[i]nclusion of material or article worked upon by a structure being claimed does not impart patentability to the claims.” In re Young, 75 F.2d 996, 25 USPQ 69 (CCPA 1935) (as restated in In re Otto, 312 F.2d 937, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963)).

Moreover, by the doctrine of dependent claim differentiation, liquid soap cannot be part of the combination of claims 22 and 31 because the liquid soap is explicitly recited in the dependent claims 29, 30, 34 and 35.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 28, 29, 30, 33, 34 and 35 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 4,418,843 to Jackman in view of US 3,736,694 to Lebensfeld.

Art Unit: 3754

Jackman shows all claimed features as discussed above except for the dispenser container a bubble wand and liquid soap. Lebensfeld shows a bubble blowing toy containing liquid soap and a bubble wand. It would have been obvious to a person with ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the device of Jackman to hold a bubble wand and liquid soap for easy and convenient refiling of the reservoir with bubble forming liquid as taught by Lebensfeld.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Corning shows a container for toilet bowl cleaning. Thai shows a bubble generating assembly. Bennett shows a hygienic water receptacle. Wright shows a mouthwash dispenser. Hein shows bubble blowing device.
